

NID – NEW ITALIAN DANCE PLATFORM

The New Italian Dance (NID) Platform is a project with the mission of supporting the best Italian dance production.

Established in 2012 through collaboration with various dance distribution houses (RTO), the Ministry of Cultural Heritage and Activities' Directorate General for Live Entertainment, and local organizations, the Platform places Italian and international companies and operators in contact in order to promote dialogue between production and distribution and grant greater visibility to the artistic quality of the Italian scene in the fullest respect of the plurality of languages and poetics.

The NID Platform presents the best companies and most exemplary performances on the Italian panorama with a careful selection of established names and emerging choreographers in a rich, articulated four-day program that also envisions opportunities for comparison and reflection, collateral events, and discussions of related topics.

The NID Platform is an experience through which professional collaboration between national and international production and distribution flourish: an operative format capable of expanding and renewing the dance market in Italy today and spreading awareness of the nation's most relevant choreographic production among operators beyond its borders.

All its performances and collateral events are open to the public.

THE 5TH EDITION: OCTOBER 10-13, 2019 REGGIO EMILIA

The 5th edition of the NID Platform has been awarded to ATER Circuito Regionale Multidisciplinare, Fondazione Nazionale della Danza and Fondazione I Teatri, and will take place from October 10 to 13, 2019 in Reggio Emilia, a city with a long love for dance.

This edition aims to continue and enhance those elements of distinction that make the NID Platform the successful project it is widely known to be while introducing elements of innovation and stimulation in the relationship between programming and producing, with extra emphasis on research and new trends to present only the best of Italian dance in four days of performance, collateral activities, events and festivities.

15 shows by 15 Italian authors will be presented, selected through a public call, in addition to 4 programmes by the 4 dance production centers – a recent new category that gives an innovative impulse to the sector- which will propose samplings of their specific artistic identities.

In addition, one of the most significant innovations of the 2019 Edition will be “Open Studios”: a new section intended to offer both affirmed companies and emerging artists further opportunities to be part of the platform with dance projects that have not yet made their debut. 8 projects will be presented to the audience in an informal way.

The 2019 NID Platform program will be inserted in the wider context of the Festival Aperto promoted and organized by Fondazione I Teatri. This open window on Italian dance has always been a vital part of the festival with its program of succinct dialogue between music, theater, and dance and their ramifications into art, literature, and technology and contributed for over a decade now to the City of Reggio Emilia's identity and vocation for the contemporary in a wider context of performing arts.
